Consultation for 2023 will kick off on 7 February with the first Community Opinion Group (COG) Meeting at the new Griffith Regional Sports Centre.

The newly refurbished Stadium will be the first stop on the quarterly meeting calendar and locals are invited to come along and connect with Councillors and senior staff from 7pm.

Lake Wyangan flood pump and pipeline

Griffith City Council will reallocate funds in the 2022/23 budget to address unprecedented water levels at Lake Wyangan following last year's floods.

The water level in Lake Wyangan has reached a record height due to continual rainfall events in 2022 and additional runoff from the catchment to the north. This has resulted in flooding of two residential houses, Jones Road causeway and associated buildings and infrastructure around the foreshore of the North Lake.

At the Extraordinary Council Meeting held on Tuesday 10 January 2023, Council resolved to divert funds from the Lake Wyangan foreshore improvements fund into a new Lake Wyangan Flood Pump and Pipeline Project. This will enable water to be pumped out of Lake Wyangan into the drainage channel along Slopes Road that eventually drains into Barren Box Storage and Wetlands system.

Griffith Deputy Mayor, Councillor Glen Andreazza said this action would allow Council to reduce

Don't miss Unlemon – a meandering tale of citrus

'Unlemon - a meandering tale of citrus' is now showing at Griffith Regional Art Gallery until Sunday 19 February 2023. Featuring the work of South Australian artist, Alison Mitchell, this exhibition of over 40 still-life oil paintings unfolds the story of citrus. From its origins approximately 20 million years ago on the Gondwana supercontinent, through its trade routes from China and Persia to the Mediterranean and the Americas, and on to its uses in medicine and culinary practices, the humble citrus is elevated in this exquisite exhibition.

Art Gallery Coordinator, Ray Wholohan said Alison's exhibition begins with a reimagining of seventeenth century Dutch art where paintings of citrus with peels unfurling evoked representations of wealth, exoticism, trade and expansion.

"The exhibition continues in the still life genre, exploring citrus' symbiotic relationship with us humans, in both its global success and the disease that threatens to devastate the species," said Mr Wholohan.

"Underpinning this is the crucial role played by Australia's own native citrus."

South Australian artist Alison Mitchell was born in Malaysia and her family moved to Mount Gambier in the mid-sixties where she spent her primary and secondary school years – enjoying all the swimming, sport, horse and bike-riding that a country childhood allows. It was probably the gardening and botanising of her parents though that gently influenced the direction her art would take.

the water level from around the inundated homes, the Jones Road Causeway and infrastructure on the foreshore of the North Lake.

"Given that Lake Wyangan, both North and South Lakes, are closed catchments there is no natural drainage outlet to allow any water out of the Lakes," he said.

"After investigating suitable options, we've determined that the only way of extracting water is by mechanically pumping the water to another location using a new pipeline."

On 4 August 2022 and 14 September 2022 the Griffith Local Government Area, along with numerous other Local Government Areas, was declared a disaster on the basis of severe weather and flooding. Given the emergency nature of the flooding situation and the urgent need to take action to address several issues at Lake Wyangan, the Extraordinary Council Meeting was called in order to deal with the matter.

"In late 2022 we already took steps to pump approximately 1,000 ML water into Tharbogang Wetland and water is also currently being pumped into Campbell Wetland," Councillor Andreatza said.

"Murrumbidgee Irrigation have given permission for Council to pump water for a limited period out of Lake Wyangan up to the drain which discharges into Barren Box Swamp.

"Once water has been pumped out, Jones Road will then be assessed to determine the scope and cost of repairs with a view to resuming access to the Lake via Jones Road.

The proposed pump will provide an output of approximately 20 ML per day when operated for 24 hours per day. Around 4,000 ML is needed to be extracted out of Lake Wyangan so it is anticipated it will take approximately six and half months of continual pumping to reduce the water level to enable Jones Road causeway to be exposed.

Lake Wyangan now on Red Alert

Council wishes to advise that Lake Wyangan (North) is now on red alert.

A sample taken on January 4, 2023, was 0.0660 mm3/litre, which is considered a "green alert." However, on January 9 and 12, 2023, testing revealed a total BGA count of more than 10mm3/litre, indicating a red alert.

A Red Alert level warning indicates that people should not undertake recreational activities where they may be coming into direct contact with the water such as swimming, as well as domestic uses including showering and washing. Contact with the water may also pose a threat to livestock and pets.

Sampling will be carried out weekly until two consecutive results are below 10 mm3/litre biovolume.

Griffith City Library courtyard gets a colourful revamp

The Griffith City Library courtyard has undergone a transformation, with members invited to check out the newly revamped space.

Thanks to new seating, umbrellas and turf, it is now a bright and funky outdoor area where visitors can sit and read, enjoy a coffee or have lunch this summer.

Griffith City Library Acting Manager, Chris Robson, said thanks to Council's Urban Design team, the space was now more inviting.

"We have introduced some outdoor furniture to bring a bit of life and colour to our previously underutilised courtyard space," Mr Robson said.

"I think everyone will agree it's now an area that more people can enjoy."

If you haven't visited the Griffith City Library lately, you should to find out what else is new.

Message from Cr. Chris Sutton

Happy New Year to all our Griffith residents, as well as the many visitors who may be here over this holiday period.

2022 was a year filled with plenty of ups and downs. Let's hope 2023 is a year of progress and prosperity for our City. We got off to a good start last week when Sam Faraway MLC visited Griffith. I was with him when he announced more than $6 million in emergency fast tracked payments for six councils across Murray, including Griffith, to help them get on with repairing their roads after the floods. This money is in addition to funding to fill potholes that was announced back in October 2022.

I know that roads are a big issue for motorists so it's wonderful to see this money being made available. It's going to be a massive effort to get our roads back up to scratch, but at least this is a start.

Speaking of issues, locals will have the chance to bring to Council's attention any others when the first Community Opinion Group (COG) Meeting is held at the newly refurbished Griffith Regional Sports Centre on February 7. If you have anything you'd like to let us know about, we'd love to see you there. I know that quite a few people will be interested to hear updates from previous COGs, so make sure you get along.

Council recognises that our wonderful City is built by amazing people who are deserving of recognition for their contributions. That's why I urge you to attend the Australia Day awards ceremony on Thursday 26 January at the Theatre. This is an important part of Australia Day as well as welcoming our new citizens. Another fantastic way to mark the day is by attending the second Survival Day event at the Griffith Regional Aquatic Leisure Centre. This free event is hosted in partnership with Council and the Griffith Local Aboriginal Land Council and is a celebration of Wiradjuri culture.

If you didn't attend last year's I recommend you do this year, it's a real opportunity for us all to learn and foster understanding. Finally, if you are looking for a way to cool down and keep the kids happy, Council is presenting a Dive in Movie experience at the Pool this Saturday 21 January 2023. This is another free event proudly presented by Griffith City Council and the Australia Day Council. The movie will be DC League of Super Pets and it starts at 6pm.

Until next time,
Councillor Chris Sutton
