

COUNCIL CATCH-UP

Message from Mayor John Dal Broi

It's been another busy and productive week.

Last Saturday I had the pleasure of attending the unveiling of the Rotary Monument in Banna Avenue.

This new monument is a replacement for the previous one erected by the Rotary Club of Griffith in 1966, which celebrated the 50th Anniversary of the founding of Griffith in 1916.

I was truly honoured and humbled to be able to unveil the monument together with a pioneer of Griffith, Mr Keith McWilliam, who was present when the Governor of the day, Sir Roden Cutler unveiled the original monument in 1966.

I thank Rotary for their work in coordinating this project.

The end result is a striking piece of artwork that we can all enjoy for many years to come.

On Sunday at 11am, 100 years on from the signing of the treaty that ended World War I, Griffith fell silent as we paid tribute to the soldiers who fought and died in overseas wars and peacekeeping missions.

It was a lovely service and wonderful to see such a good turnout. I was honoured to be there to commemorate such an important day.

On Monday I attended a forum where we were addressed by Minister for Roads Melinda Pavey as well as executive of Southern NSW RMS, with Member for Murray Austin Evans also present.

Those in attendance were briefed on a lot of information and we had the opportunity to have a discussion and lobby for various aspects but most importantly the relocation of the LINX freight hub from Railway Street to the Wumbulgal site.

General Manager Brett Stonestreet and I were in Jerilderie on Wednesday where we attended the Riverina and Murray Joint Organisations (RAMJO) meeting.

This was another full and fruitful day with a broad cross-section of topics discussed. Yesterday we were in Echuca for a meeting called by the Murray Darling Association with a view to express concerns over low allocations for Murrumbidgee and Murray regions.

I can't believe we are already mid-way through November. That means the end of the year and Christmas is fast approaching. I'm delighted to say that our Festival of Lights is back again. The bus tours around the city proved extremely popular last year and I'm sure they will be again.

I urge those residents who plan to add some Christmas cheer to their homes, to register so that others can enjoy them. To have the tours with the buses really adds something special. Families can jump on the buses and view all the houses and decorations and it won't cost them anything.

Don't forget the Consulate General of Italy in Sydney will be in Griffith on 29 and 30 November 2018.

A Consular officer will be available in the Dal Broi Room at Griffith City Council each day between 9am -12pm and 1pm - 4pm. You need to book an appointment by 25 November at the latest, and send an email to info.sydney@esteri.it specifying "Appuntamento consolare a Griffith" in the subject line.

Regards,
John Dal Broi
Emeritus Mayor

Tara wins prestigious award

Griffith North Public School can now claim a Prime Minister's NAIDOC Medal of Excellence winner among its students.

Tara Muller was one of just 20 students state-wide to be bestowed the prestigious NAIDOC Medal after entering the poetry section of the NAIDOC Week School Initiative Competitions.

Tara secured her PM's Medal with a poem she wrote on spirit dreaming.

The Year 5 student, who was unaware she had won the medal, was surprised when Griffith Mayor, Councillor John Dal Broi, called her name during school assembly this week.

This year, Griffith City Council was pleased to sponsor the Koori Kids' NAIDOC

Week School Initiative. Mayor John Dal Broi said the school did a fantastic job celebrating the history, culture and achievements of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples, with a special emphasis on Griffith's inspirational Aboriginal women.

"We were happy to hear that so many of Griffith North's students participated in this initiative by colouring in and writing poems," Cr Dal Broi said.

"I'm pleased to announce that Griffith North student Tara Muller won the Prime Ministers NAIDOC Medal of Excellence Award for her poem.

"Tara's creativity meant that her poem was chosen out of thousands of entries, earning recognition at the national level.

"Congratulations to Tara and Griffith North, you can now claim a Prime Ministers NAIDOC Medal of Excellence winner among your students."

For her efforts, Tara was presented with a certificate, medallion and gift.

The NAIDOC Week competitions, which received more than 61,000 entries across the four categories for primary and high school students, provided young Australians with an opportunity to learn more about indigenous heritage and foster understanding.

NAIDOC Week 2018 ran from 8 to 15 July.

Tara is pictured below receiving her award.

said Councillor Dal Broi.

Let's help Stop it at the Start

Griffith City Council is supporting a national campaign to help reduce violence against women and their children.

Stop it at the Start aims to show how easily our words and actions can be misinterpreted by young people, how they might take our words at face value, or see them as an excuse or permission to behave in a certain way.

Griffith Mayor, Councillor John Dal Broi said parents, family members, teachers, coaches, employers or community leaders should be aware of the impact their words and actions have on the next generation.

"It doesn't matter who you are, violence against women and children is not acceptable and won't be tolerated," Cr Dal Broi said.

"We all need to be mindful of the messages we are giving young people. They need to know that certain behaviour is inappropriate.

"As parents, and as influencers of young people, we want the best for our kids. We all need to think about the impact of what we say and do, and start conversations about respect with boys and girls.

"We need to help them understand right and wrong and to respect others, and themselves."

To show support for the campaign and White Ribbon Day, which falls on Friday, 23 November, 2018, Council, in partnership with Soroptimist International Griffith, Griffith Leagues Club and Exies Club, has installed White Ribbon Flags along Banna Avenue in Griffith.

Stop it at the Start targets disrespectful attitudes and behaviours adults might dismiss or ignore in young people - often without realising it. We make excuses like "it's just boys being boys" or "he is only doing it because he likes you."

The campaign is directed at parents and family members of children aged 10 - 17, as well as the teachers, coaches, community leaders and employers of young people.

Stop it at the Start illustrates how small steps, small moments of change - by all of us - can help break the cycle of violence against women.

Making a change can be as simple as reflecting on what we say and do, or talking to our kids about respectful relationships. In Australia, one woman a week is killed at the hands of a current or former partner.

One in two women experience sexual harassment during their lifetime.

White Ribbon Day is a day to bring awareness to the issue and encourage Australians to stand up, speak out and act.

HE DID IT BECAUSE HE LIKES YOU
NO ONE HAS STOPPED HIM

When we excuse disrespect, it can grow into violence.
